TRIED TO BRIBE AND ARRESTED. Charges of Conspiracy Were Also Pre ferred Against Two Men.

New York, April .- Michael Tanglisch a re-taurant proprietor, and Stanley Bagg, a private detective, have been held $5,000 bail each for further examination Tuesday, charged with conspiracy in connection with peonage cases and with attempting to bribe government of-

The charges grew out of the federal grand jury investigations, which have thus far resulted in the indictment and arrest of half a dozen men charged with peonage, in inducing laboring men to go to the turpentine adn humber camps in the swamps of southern Florida, where it is claimed they were reduced to a condition of practical slavery.

It is alleged that the defendants sought to bribe Julius Kron, a special employe of the department of justice, to divulge the names of persons who had appeared as witnesses before the federal grand jury. Kron notified counsel for the government and Saturday met the defendants by appointment and the arrests
